This program helps religious institutions understand the basic care of cultural materials for which they are stewards. Each talk will address the principles of caring for, displaying, and storing materials found in religious collections and buildings. Preventive conservation and information on practical ways to ensure the long-term stability of artifacts and documents will be discussed.

The series is tailored for staff and volunteers responsible for collections in churches, synagogues, mosques, or other spiritual or religious centers, but is open to all interested parties. Topics will include:

Understanding Conservation: Issues of Spiritual and Sacred Artifacts

How conservation impacts the use of sacred artifacts and how the dictates of religion shape the course of conservation treatment.

Paper-Based Materials

Archives/documents, prints, photographs, parchment.

Three-Dimensional Artifacts

Architectural features, wood and metal objects.

Painted Materials

Murals, easel paintings, polychrome sculpture.

Textiles

Wall hangings, vestments, tapestries, ceremonial fabrics, rugs, painted textiles.
